Hospitals, Refuges and Orphanages.

In presenting the thirty-ninth annual report on the Public Hospitals, Refuges and Orphanages for the year ending September 30th, 1908, I beg to state that there are at present in Ontario:—

69 Hospitals.
34 Refuges.
30 Orphanages.
3 Homes for Incurables.
2 Convalescent Homes.
2 Magdalen Asylums.
28 County Houses of Refuge.

They have received official visits of inspection during the year and those entitled to Government aid in accordance with the terms of the Charity Aid Act have shared in the grants voted by the Legislature for Hospitals and Charities.

The Hospitals.

The records of the year indicate the continued success and progress of the Hospitals of Ontario.

Number of patients in the hospitals, October 1st, 1907	2,935
Number of patients admitted during the year	41,696
Number of births in the hospitals during the year	2,340
Total number under treatment during the year	46,971

The above figures do not include those who received medicine and treatment as outdoor patients.

Number of deaths during the year	2,748
Percentage of deaths to number under treatment	5.85
Total number of days' stay in the hospitals	1,034,591
Provincial grant to hospitals	$146,268 08
Amount received from all sources	1,278,000 16
Subscriptions, donations, etc.	140,600 69
Total expenditure for hospitals (including account $1,508,138.74)	2,721,524 28
Average cost for each patient per day	$1 21
Percentage of Provincial grant to total maintenance expenditure	.1388

The above summary affords evidence of progress and indicates a growth of the hospital spirit that is very satisfactory. The large expenditures for hospital maintenance and on capital account are larger than during any previous year. The total number under treatment during the year was larger than ever before. In 1898 the total expenditure of the hospitals of Ontario for maintenance was $437,034, and the total number under treatment in that year was 21,828. During the past few years a spirit of liberality has been manifested and has brought about results that are highly satisfactory. The total expenditure for the hospitals of Ontario during the past year was $2,721,524.28 and 46,971 patients were under treatment. The executive of every hospital in Ontario has during the past year felt the increased cost of maintenance. The daily cost of maintenance has been higher than ever before. The average daily cost per patient has been $1.21 per day and to meet this increased cost local philanthropy has contributed more liberally than ever before. The local hospital is year by year becoming recognized as a necessity to every large town. It is no longer necessary for a patient to undertake a railway journey to a distant city for a surgical operation, or medical treatment. The surgical and medical equipment of some of our town hospitals is superior to that found in some of our city institutions. The work that is done in some of the smaller hospitals of Ontario is equal to that of any of the metropolitan institutions anywhere. This is due largely to the well recognized fact that the establishment of a hospital in a community invariably encourages the introduction of the methods of research and treatment which modern science can suggest. The local hospital becomes a centre from which beneficial and uplifting influences radiate. No town in Ontario would permit the doors of its local hospital to be closed, although in many instances it has required no small amount of earnest, faithful work and practical benevolence to bring the financial receipts within speaking distance of the expenditures. In nearly every town and city there are local boards, the members of which have been most faithful and earnest in their efforts, and it is satisfactory to note that the results have shown that the work has not been in vain.

Provincial Aid to Hospitals.

1. A Provincial grant is made for all patients in a hospital during the first ten years of its existence at the rate of twenty cents per day, irrespective of what sum is contributed by the patients themselves.
2. After a hospital has been in existence for ten years the grant is paid only for patients for whose maintenance $4.90 per week or less is contributed.
3. In all cases the limit is 120 days and if patients remain in the hospital longer than that period the refuge rate of seven cents per day is allowed.
4. Children over one year and under twelve years are allowed for at the rate of seven cents per day.
5. No allowance is made for infants under one year of age.
6. The grant to Sanatoria for Consumptives will for the coming year be $3.00 per week for all patients for whose maintenance $4.90 per week or less is contributed.

Visit to Old Country Hospitals.

During the year an opportunity was afforded me of studying hospital methods and construction in the Old Country. A visit was paid to London, Birmingham, Edinborough, Glasgow, Belfast, and a number of the rural towns where smaller hospitals and sanatoria have been erected on modern plans. The visit was most interesting and instructive. During the past ten years marked progress has been made in hospital construction. The advances have had to keep pace with the improvements in aseptic and antiseptic methods in surgery and in the treatment of the sick generally. Much more importance is attached to the details of sanitation than to the separation and isolation which are now deemed of secondary importance. The hospitals of Great Britain and Ireland are, particularly in the small cities, models unexcelled in the whole world. The progress made in hospital work and construction may be briefly stated to be:

1. In surgical equipment.

2. In the departments of the hospital devoted to casualties and out-patients.

3. In mechanical ventilation and the regulation of temperature.

It is most evident that an effort has been made by improvements in surgical equipment to keep pace with the immense advancement of recent years in surgery. The modern operating room and its accessories present a great contrast to such a room ten years ago. The great aim is to have as nearly aseptic conditions as can be secured. No provision is now made for a large crowd of students. Many of the best operating rooms only provide for six spectators who stand behind a glass screen. The modern operating room is smaller and its floors, walls, and ceiling are all in a condition to be closed down and steamed out daily, or even several times daily if necessary.

In the large city hospitals the improvements in the out-patient department for the sick poor are most marked, the latest development being the amalgamation of the out-patients and casualty departments in well lighted and properly ventilated quarters.

In hospital ventilation probably more careful work has been done by English architects than any other. Inspection of the different institutions and various methods of ventilation gives convincing evidence of the fact that the present period is one of transition. It, therefore, would seem very necessary for those contemplating hospital construction to watch carefully the interesting development now in progress in the matter of ventilation.

A visit was paid to several of the best hospitals for sick children, and although some were larger none was as well equipped as the Toronto institution.

All the modern hospitals are now being built in such a way as will provide abundant space by wide verandahs for open air treatment. No longer is a sofa or a bed on a balcony regarded as a special treat for a patient. The facilities for open air treatment are now regarded as an essential and valuable part of the treatment of every patient. In discussing hospital construction during the past year with a leading Superintendent in England the remark was made by him that no modern hospital was complete which did not furnish outdoor balcony accommodation for at least one-half its patients. The older hospitals in England I found were erecting balconies and fitting up roof gardens and solaria to provide for what is now recognized as essential. It is to be hoped that no new hospital will be erected in Ontario that will be without spacious balconies.

It is not necessary to make more extended reference to the many other improvements noted in hospital construction further than to express a sense of gratitude to Sir Henry Burdett, the great leader in hospital progress in England, and those Superintendents and Architects who generously gave their time and attention and supplied me with valuable plans to be kept for reference in the Department. These plans can be referred to by anyone interested in hospital construction at any time.

Toronto Hospitals.

Reference must again be called to the urgent need that exists in Toronto Hospitals for better accommodation for the sick poor. Many of the public wards are so crowded that it is impossible to satisfactorily carry on the work, and conditions are tolerated that would not be permitted elsewhere. It is not fair to the other public hospitals of Ontario which have been forced to maintain a proper standard of equipment in buildings in order to receive the annual government grant, that Toronto Hospitals are permitted to display the indifference which some manifest towards the need for improving the accommodations for the sick poor. Conditions as they are at present, and as they have been for some time, cannot be allowed to continue. There should be at the entrance to each public ward a card on the wall stating the number of cubic feet therein and the number of patients allowed in that ward. The number of cubic feet per patient should never be less than 1,500, with facilities provided for ventilation that will permit the air of the ward to be completely changed at least once each hour. The monthly return to the Department from each hospital should show whether the capacity had been exceeded; and the Government grant would be allowed only for the number of public ward patients that there was authorized capacity for. I recommend that such a regulation as the above be authorized and put in force at once for there is no reason whatever why the sick poor of Toronto should not be cared for in as sanitary surroundings as in the public hospitals in the other cities and towns of Ontario. Why should Toronto Hospitals not afford as good accommodation for its public ward patients as is provided at London, Ottawa, Brockville, Sarnia, Lindsay, Stratford, and scores of other places in the Province?

Relation of Municipality to the Hospital.

The contrast between municipal hospitals and those institutions which are controlled and directed by local boards is most marked. Fortunately in this country we have not the experience which has been so expensive in some of the American cities during the past year. There are only two or three what might be termed municipal hospitals in Ontario. Where these are located there is an absence of the hospital spirit among the people of the community. Local philanthropy is never exerted for the benefit of the hospital. It would, indeed, be a surprise for such a hospital to receive a contribution or become the object of a bequest. Not only is the hospital deprived of the contributions, and sympathy of the people of the community, but the greater privilege of giving is kept from those who would otherwise find comfort and delight in practical benevolence. There are one or two places in Ontario where the people would as soon think of making a donation to the City Hall or Street Railway as to the local hospital under municipal control and management. There is no room in Ontario for more hospitals solely under municipal control. The ideal plan is, as so largely prevails in this Province, local management under the direction of those who are actuated by a spirit of philanthropy coupled with civic pride, and are willing to administer the important trust committed to their care. These local boards, however, deserve and must receive municipal support. The Municipal Act of Ontario gives power to vote an annual grant each year for hospital support. Every city, town, village, township, and county council can exercise that power. Some of the municipalities make liberal grants towards the support of the hospitals in their midst. Unfortunately, there are many that will not take advantage of the power they possess to vote hospital grants. Some municipalities decline to contribute anything towards paying for the hospital care and treatment their indigent patients receive. The time has come when municipalities should be awakened to a sense of the duty they owe to the local hospitals who care for their sick poor. An amendment to the Charity Aid Act might with great advantage be introduced giving hospital boards the power to collect from a municipality the actual cost of maintenance of a patient who is unable to pay for what the hospital has afforded him during his illness. The Municipal Act now gives the power for the municipality to make the grant: why not give hospitals the power to collect what the municipality owes for the care of its indigents? During the past year I have several times been appealed to by hospital boards, relating the circumstance of some poor man or woman being brought to the hospital from an adjoining municipality, but without any prospect of the hospital being paid for the patient's maintenance. When the hospital appealed to the municipality for aid no attention was paid and nothing could be done to enforce payment. This injustice should be remedied.

The Consumptive in General Hospitals.

Where no other provision is made in the community, it is wrong to refuse to admit tubercular cases to a General Hospital. With the knowledge that we now have of the life history and habits of the tubercle bacillus and with proper observance of simple precautions regarding the care of the sputum and excreta, the consumptive patient can safely be taken into a general hospital, without fear of the disease spreading. It is absolutely necessary that tubercular patients shall be kept in a separate ward, that the food left over after meals shall not be returned to the diet kitchen, and that the laundry of such patients shall be carefully sterilized before being sent out for washing. With the now well-understood precautions it would be perfectly proper for every hospital to set aside a well aired ward for the reception of tubercular cases. Any hospital which turns a poor consumptive from its doors, if there is no other place provided for him in the community, should be deprived forthwith of a share in the Government grant. The chronic cases should and must be cared for. Hitherto there has been altogether too much dread of the poor consumptive who, under discipline and management, is not by any means the menace that we have heard so much about. The only way in which consumption can be eradicated from Ontario is by local effort, and in such a movement the local hospital should be the leader. On nearly every hospital site in Ontario there is room for a shack with a wide verandah and such a building might be erected and made comfortable for the chronic cases now so often sadly neglected.

Hospitals for Consumptives.

During the past year 871 patients were admitted to the special hospitals, or sanatoria, established for the treatment and care of consumptives in Ontario. When the number admitted to these institutions is compared with the total number of cases which are known to exist it will be readily seen that only a small percentage of the number of tubercular patients in Ontario are receiving hospital care. The reason for this is largely due to the fact that the distance is often considered too great, and, therefore, the necessity is more apparent than ever for having local sanatoria established in different parts of the Province. The consumptives of each county, or group of counties, should have separate provision made for them. The best methods of caring for tubercular patients have engaged public attention in several countries during the past year. The latest pronouncement comes in a report from a special commission appointed by the general assembly of the State of Connecticut last year. This commission has evidently made a careful study of the whole subject, and as the result of the investigations the report recommends that local sanatoria be established in the counties of the state, each county to furnish the site, and the state and county to divide the cost of buildings and maintenance. It has been found to be a mistake for a state to erect and maintain large institutions for the treatment of consumption. States which have taken that method have, after a few years' experience, realized this fact and that it would have been better to establish small local institutions than the more expensive and less useful larger ones. The report of the Connecticut Commission is a valuable contribution and may be taken as agreeing with the best thought of those who have made a special study of all the plans devised for fighting the white plague. It is remarkable how the report of the Connecticut Commission agrees with the plan agreed upon in Ontario and from which there should be little deviation. The Ontario Government grant to every municipality establishing a local sanatarium for the treatment of consumptives is $4,000. and afterwards it makes a liberal contribution towards each patient's maintenance. It seems strange that municipalities are slow in taking advantage of this liberal provision. The idea has prevailed that in establishing local sanatoria it would be necessary to copy the usual methods of hospital construction, and the question of expense has stood in the way. Expensive and ornate constructions should not be thought of in preparing plans for the housing of consumptive patients. The one aim should be to provide for a maximum amount of pure air at a minimum expense in architectural outlay. A frame building with wide verandahs and a few shacks comfortably fitted up would surely be an investment that every county in Ontario could profitably make. The many instances that we have in Ontario where consumption has been cured is assuring evidence that should justify the establishment of municipal sanatoria, especially when the Government grant is liberal. The districts in Germany, England and Scotland that have had sanatoria established for several years demonstrate the fact that these institutions are never a menace to the community where they are located On the other hand, it is clearly shown that there is less tuberculosis in the immediate neighborhood of the institutions than there was previous to their establishment. We know that Gravenhurst has not suffered in any sense by having the two hospitals for consumptives so convenient thereto. This country is gradually awakening to the proper methods of dealing with the white plague and the next decade will no doubt bring about greatly increased sanitarium facilities for the proper care of the consumptive individual. The establishment of these local institutions will not only effect a cure, or improvement, in patients under their shelter, but one of their great missions will be to teach a proper mode of life to the community in general and to the consumptive in particular. They will spread the gospel of a life in pure air as the only proper mode of life for every human being.

The example of the Hamilton Health Association shows what could be done in many other places in Ontario. The Mountain Sanitarium at Hamilton has had a most successful year, and the establishment was due to a few philanthropic citizens forming an Association and establishing a local sanitarium on a farm convenient to the city.

Education in Regard to Consumption.

During the past year there has been, at the suggestion of the Honorable the Provincial Secretary, a great forward movement in education in regard to consumption. Under the direction of the Provincial Board of Health an exhibit was prepared for the purpose of demonstrating the modern methods for the open air treatment of tuberculosis. This exhibit has been shown in many places in Ontario and the interest taken has clearly demonstrated the fact that the people greatly appreciated the effort made to demonstrate the means devised to combat the disease. An incalculable amount of good must come from these efforts to enlighten the public in regard to the nature and methods for the cure of consumption. If people were properly educated, not frightened, in regard to the disease a more rational view would be taken and the steps necessary for its prevention and cure would be better understood. The result would be seen in the disease being gradually but certainly exterminated from Ontario. There should be in at least twenty of the hospital centres of this Province a public dispensary established along lines similar to the tuberculosis clinic in connection with Toronto General Hospital, and the one under the direction of the Hamilton Health Association. No one can estimate the value of the work which a well conducted dispensary, with the visiting nurse attached thereto, can do not only in prescribing for the patients but in teaching them how to live. The visiting nurse going to the homes of the patients and seeing that the surroundings are made and kept right fills a mission of the highest importance. The distribution of cards and literature for the guidance of patients is also another method of teaching the public the simple but effective ways by which the disease may be prevented. The day will surely soon come when in Ontario we will have compulsory notification, not for publicity, but in order that the local health authorities may be able to locate every case and make sure, particularly among the poor, that the best methods are known and being followed to effect a cure and prevent, through neglect of the sputa, the danger of contagion.

The Undesirable Immigrant Class.

Attention must again be called to the fact that a large number of undesirable and unsuitable immigrants have been induced to come to Ontario and have, shortly after landing, become a public charge on our hospitals and charities. There are no more benevolent and patriotic people to be found anywhere than those who so generously support the charitable institutions of this Province. They have just reason to complain of the unreasonably large number of dependants and defectives that some designing agencies have induced to seek shelter here. The most kindly spirit has been displayed by our charitable organizations to provide for the needy and the sick, but when week after week cases are reported that should have been kept at home and apparently were only sent to Canada to be gotten rid of, it is little wonder that protests are made. Any system that permits Government, steamship, or any other agency to induce immigration, without proper discrimination, cannot be defended. During the past year it has cost the hospitals and public charities of this Province of Ontario many thousands of dollars to provide for people who should never have been allowed to embark for this country. The fault lies in the system that allows these poor people to have their little means taken from them on the other side of the Atlantic and told they will be well looked after in Canada. The time and place to check the undesirable immigrant is when proposing to leave his domicile in the Old Country. For example: in November last, a young man who was a well known epileptic in Newcastle-on-Tyne, and who had attacks of his disease, frequently, both before and during his trip to this country, landed in Canada. He came to Toronto and went to work on a farm in the country, exactly four weeks from the date of his arrival. During an epileptic seizure he shot the farmer with whom he was living and after trial was sent to a public institution where he must remain in custody for the rest of his life. Such a case might, with little investigation, have been prevented from emigrating to Canada. In August I saw a poor consumptive being helped on board a steamship at Glasgow bound for Canada. He was so frail he could scarcely walk. Before landing at Quebec I protested to the ship's surgeon that such a man should not have been permitted to emigrate from the Old Country, and that he would certainly become at once a public charge in one of our hospitals. The poor fellow was not permitted to land and was returned on the same ship. The ship surgeon afterwards wrote me that this patient died on board before reaching his native land. The large expenditure that it costs the public charities in this country to care for the helpless consumptives, epileptics. etc., that come to Canada, might be in a large measure curtailed if a rigid system of investigation and inspection was established before allowing undesirable emigrants to embark for Canada.

City Refuges Receiving Government Aid.

There are 44 refuges and homes in Ontario receiving Government aid. The total population of these homes during the past year was 5,947. The total expenditure for their maintenance during the year was $351,877.86. Towards this expenditure the Government contributed $75,572.30 to be divided among these institutions at the rate of seven cents per day, as provided for by the Charity Aid Act, according to the length of residence of inmates, the balance of the expenditure being contributed by subscriptions, bequests, municipal grants, etc. These refuges have all been visited and inspected, according to statute, and suggestions made in some instances for their improvement. Criticism has to be made too often in regard to the number of inmates being in excess of the accommodation. Overcrowding poorly ventilated dormitories has frequently to be complained of It is difficult to lay down a hard and fast rule in regard to the number of beds that should be permitted in each room; but there is a general regulation that in every dormitory there must be a space of at least two feet between each bed, and that each sleeping apartment must be properly ventilated. In visiting some of the refuges in Great Britain, during the year, I found that at the entrance to each dormitory there was a card stating the number of cubic feet that room contained, and below this the number of inmates allowed for that apartment. Each inmate must be allowed at least eight hundred cubic feet of air space, and the system of ventilation must provide a complete change of air throughout the room at least every hour. It would be an excellent regulation to introduce in the refuges of Ontario.

Attention has had to be called on the occasion of inspection, in some instances, to that clause in the statutes relating to refuges which states that no child between the ages of two and sixteen years shall be received or boarded in any House of Industry, House of Refuge, or other institution established for the reception and care of paupers or other dependent adults. This is a regulation that must be enforced and the Government grant should be withheld from any institution violating this statutory enactment.

While we are gratified with the evidences of philanthropy that provides homes for the aged and infirm, care must be taken that we do not fall into the mistake which has been created in some countries and build up a system that encourages thriftlessness and consequently pauperism. Only those who are incapacitated by the infirmities of age should seek assistance. England to-day, is struggling under the tremendous burden of its work-house system, not so much on account of its enormous cost as on account of its undermining influence on British character, breeding as it does a population of spiritless paupers. Pauperism is a condition created by indiscriminate charity. This we must seek to avoid. The management of our city refuges have a great task in working out plans that will avoid creating conditions in this country that have proved harmful in Great Britain.

It is gratifying to note that there has been considerable improvement in the facilities for fire protection at these refuges. Too great caution cannot be taken to have constantly at hand not only simple and effective means for checking a fire, but also a recognized and well understood system for the quick removal of the inmates if danger should be threatened. Those in charge of these refuges have in nearly every instance cheerfully complied with the suggestions that have been given, and it is pleasing to record many observed incidents indicating faithful and conscientious devotion to duty in caring for the old and infirm committed to their care.

County Houses of Refuge.

There are now 28 County Houses of Refuge which, by the Act of Legislature of 1906, were brought under inspection of this department. The average number of inmates during the year was 1,533. The statute enacts that the Inspector shall make such recommendations and suggestions in relation to the management of these institutions as he may deem best. These recommendations, however, the county council may carry out or ignore, as it pleases. The majority of these municipal institutions are well conducted and afford comfortable homes for the indigent old people sent thereto. There are a few, however, that are not properly managed, and in these, on account of general neglect, there is not the comfort afforded that might be obtained under better conditions. In the Province of Ontario there are some Houses of Refuge that are not surpassed anywhere, and in some counties these institutions reflect the greatest credit on the liberal spirit that has provided such homes for their aged. There are some, fortunately only a few, that no amount of suggestions or recommendations seem to improve. In such the unfortunate inmates seemed to be left to take care of themselves and the sick were apparently neglected, and all because of the parsimony of the local authorities who were unwilling to provide sufficient help to care for the inmates properly. In one of the largest and most wealthy counties in the Province, with a House of Refuge having a male population of 57, one large room in the basement has to serve the purpose of a sitting room, a smoking room and a dining room. In such, unsanitary conditions might well be expected with evidence of neglect on every hand. On account of the beds being improperly looked after and no proper provision made for the care of clothing, vermin and other pests have apparently to be tolerated by the unfortunate inmates. No institution supported by public funds should be maintained in an unsanitary state. To remedy these conditions statutory authority should be given to enable the Department to prescribe a uniform system for the whole Province in the management of these homes. In the Hospitals for the Insane the Department prescribes the number of nurses and attendants for each institution in accordance with the number of patients being cared for. Until that is done it seems little improvement can be expected in the few counties in Ontario that have disregarded reasonable recommendations and suggestions for improvement. Statutory enactments might well be made to compel the counties to remove from the Hospitals for the Insane many of the harmless, quiet, old people who are not insane and would not be permitted to remain in such institutions if they had not become poor and friendless. The County of Waterloo has generously taken some old people, who had for years been confined in the institutions for the insane, and given them the larger liberty of life in the country at the House of Refuge. Special mention is made of this, as an instance illustrating a spirit of benevolence that other counties might well adopt. The last report of the Inspector of the Hospitals for the Insane calls attention to the hundreds of quiet, harmless, old people who are kept in those institutions, who should be removed and cared for in the counties from which they were originally admitted. There is altogether too great a disposition to expect the Province to support those whose care and maintenance rightly belong to the counties. Only legislation will correct some of the anomalies that prevail.

Orphanages.

During the year 30 orphanages in Ontario have received Government aid. These institutions had a total population of 4,718 children. The total expenditure for the maintenance of these charities during the year was $157,592.01. The Government's grant to assist in meeting that expenditure was, at the rate of two cents per day, $17,388.05, the balance being contributed by private donations, municipal grants, etc. An official visit of inspection has been paid to each of these institutions. Each year attention has to be called to the overcrowding found in many of the orphanages; especially in the dormitories too many children are crowded together, and in some the lavatory facilities are found deficient and unsanitary. The number of children now in the orphanages of Ontario is larger than for several years. This is not a hopeful sign. The best institution is a poor substitute for the home. The Children's Aid Societies throughout Ontario have more applications for children for adoption than can be supplied, and it seems wrong that so many children should be kept in orphanages who might be adopted into comfortable homes. Nearly all the institutions for the care of children in Ontario are well managed, but at best the life of a child therein is deprived of that broadening development that comes from intercourse with outside children. The environment in childhood has a potent influence in moulding character. No matter how kindly cared for they may be in these institutions there is lacking many of the elements that make for rugged upbuilding of character. We are yearly providing in Canada comfortable homes for hundreds of children brought out from the orphanages of Great Britain, while keeping so many of our native born young Canadians housed in our own institutions. The majority of people taking old country children express a preference for the Canadian born, but for some reason their wishes cannot be complied with. The fault lies, I am convinced, not nearly so much with the people in charge of our orphanages as with the persons who commit children to these institutions with the expressed understanding that they must be kept there and not given out for adoption into private homes. I have expressed the opinion that the rules governing the admission of all inmates should be changed so as to compel the management of all our orphanages, after a child has remained a certain period, to provide for adoption into the homes now seeking such children. Just as soon as an orphanage becomes a boarding school the Government grant should be withdrawn. It will probably be necessary for some well defined regulations to be issued shortly that will correct the sentiment that keeps the children, who might be given out for adoption, shut up, instead of sending them to homes in the country where they would be well cared for.

R. W. Bruce Smith,
Inspector.
